VICTORY FOR WENTWORTH

Cadets Defeat the Strong Westminster Team in Great Game.

For once football dope was right and the Wentworth football team is now in the foremost line for the college championship of the state. The dope worked out to the point. Westminster defeated the Kirksville Normals, 10 to 0. The Kirksville Osteopaths beat the Normals 12 to 0, thus giving them a two point lead on Westminster. Wentworth and the doctors played a tie and Wentworth defeated Westminster 14 to 12, winning by two points.

As for the game—well, the whole town was simply foot ball mad. The business portion of the city was closed and young and old were out to see one of the greatest battles ever seen on the local gridiron.

Roberts kicked off to Westminster, and Wentworth held for two downs. On the third down the Presbyterians punted, but on the next play they recovered the ball. After trying several line bucks Westminster attempted a drop kick, but the wind took it to one side. Then came one part of the game when the Wentworth team was outclassed. Westminster pounded through the line and gained on end runs until they put the ball over the line and succeeded in kicking goal.

In the second quarter Wentworth did all of her scoring. Sunderland kicked a pretty goal making the score 6 to 3 with Westminster leading. A little later after receiving a punt on the forty yard line Wentworth worked the ends for good gains and on a double pass Roberts shot the ball to Sellers who went over for a touchdown. Sunderland missed goal. Score Wentworth 8, Westminster 6. Wentworth's final score followed when a punt was recovered on the twenty five yard line and on the next play Sunderland skirted the end for a touchdown, and succeeded in kicking goal.

The third quarter was hard fought and gave Westminster her final score. Capt. Van Dyke ran around the whole Wentworth team and went sixty yards for a touchdown. He kicked goal. The last quarter was exciting to the finish; but neither side could score. Capt. Van Dyke was repeatedly given the ball, but he was unable to again succeed in getting away and the game ended with Wentworth leading 14 to 12.

The following was the lineup:

NOTES OF THE GAME

Askew, the cadet center, played rings around Whitlow, who was touted as a sure thing for the All-Missouri team. The scrappy soldier broke through the line repeatedly, tackled the Westminster backs for losses, recovered fumbles and blocked a punt. Shusher, who took Sellers' place in the last quarter, made several stellar tackles. On the first play after he went in the Blue-jays tried him out and in consequence lost two yards.

Russell, at quarter made his first appearance in Lexington. He ran the team splendidly and showed excellent judgment in the selection of plays. His defensive work, too, was good.

Van Dyke and Hamilton did the good work for the visitors in advancing the ball. The former's 65 yard run was the best that has been pulled off on the local field this year.

Bill Steele, the Lexington lad who plays left end on Westminster put up a strong defensive game, but was given no opportunity to show his strength in carrying the ball.

The officials were the best that have worked here this year. McBride is a local standby; "Izzy" Anderson made a splendid umpire, while Jay Wyatt was on the job as field judge.

Jones and McKinney, the Wentworth tackles were towers on strength and defense.

Hoge, got back into the game with a vim and made some beautiful tackles.

Both teams were sorry because the field was slow, and end runs were their principal sources of offensive strength.

Sunderland, Mitchell and Roberts make a great trio for the back field of the red and white. Roberts easily had the shade on Hamilton in the kicking department.

The Westminster boys need not feel disheartened nor disgraced over their defeat Monday. The cadets have the habit of winning, and this habit (some call it luck) comes from the fact that the team is one of the best coached and trained teams in the country, barring none. Year after year Wentworth goes out of her class to get games, and invariably returns a winner in a majority of them. Her material on an average is no better than that of other schools, but it is trained under the experienced eye of an expert, and right here lies her success. Capt. Thatcher, the coach, began the season with a decidedly green bunch, and after the first game, which was 6 to 0 defeat, many wise heads prophesied a disastrous season. But, as in former years, the coaching and training has brought results, and today the cadet team would be no mean antagonist for any team in the state.

A Cutting Scrape.

Fred Muench of this city was attacked and severely cut up Monday night by T. E. Kemple, a farmer who resides between here and Odessa. Muench was going down Franklin avenue across from the city hall and was paying no attention to Kemple who was passing with three other men. Muench made a remark to a friend and it is supposed that Kemple took it to himself. Officers Gaffin and Walton heard Muench's calls for help and hurried to the scene in time to save his life. On their arrival Kemple and his three partners all drew knives and attacked the officers, but two went down by the way of Gaffin's billy and the other two were knocked cold by Muench, whose right arm was uninjured. The arrested men gave the following names: I. P. Barker, T. E. Kemple, Wash Barker and John Kemple.

While Mr. Muench's wounds are very painful it is not thought that they will prove of a serious nature.

High School Played Well.

The Lexington high school football team played some snappy ball at the academy Friday afternoon. In a practice game of two quarters the civilians romped all over the cadet third team, making a score of 31 to 5. The third team, which defeated the high school early in the season and last week beat a heavier and older Kansas City team, was suffering with a case of swell head and could do nothing against the artistic attack of the high school.

After finishing with the third raters the town lads put on a scrimmage with the first team and showed plenty of class. While they could not stop the offense of the heavier cadets, they showed up well on running with the ball. Twice Shelby broke through the cadet line on delayed passes and scored.

Charles Lyons went to Odessa Tuesday night on legal business. C. L. Morris and son, Cecil, went to Kansas City Wednesday to spend the day on business.

C. L. Morris and son, Cecil, returned Thursday from a brief visit in Kansas City.

Miss Maude Wright returned Thursday from a visit in Kansas City.
